I tried putting gum into it, and finally cleaned out my inkstand and filled anew from the bottle, but with no success. And it is very worrying to have ink that won't take hold of the paper."

The best and only effectual remedy we know of is to throw it away and buy only ink of established reputation, such as Arnolds, Carter's, and inks of other well known makers. New steel pens are always more or less greasy, and should be

The Hawaiis Shut Out Without a Run-Quick Work.

Saturday's game at Makiki between the Honolulus and Hawaiis was probably one of the best of the season, and no doubt the quickest ever played in this city, occupying only one hour and twelve minutes. A large number of people filled the grand stand and grounds, while the Band occupied its usual position and played popular airs during the game. The Honolulus were in good condition and played as they generally do, a game to win. The Hawaiis played in hard luck, but nevertheless a strong game. Both batteries did credit to themselves while the infields and outfields were have proved their debts likewise creditable. In fact both clubs throughout played excellent. Messrs.
